

Lorelei D'Avolio, LVT, VTS (Exotics), CVPM

Lorelei is the practice administrator of New York City's only stand-alone exotic pet practice, the Center for Avian and Exotic Medicine. She received her BA in journalism from Boston University, and after earning a second bachelor's degree in Veterinary Technology from Mercy College in 2001, she has been working exclusively with exotic pets. Lorelei has lectured at many national and international veterinary symposiums and is an educator at a veterinary assistant program in Cape Cod. She also has authored and edited text book chapters, journal articles, and professional publications. Lorelei was a founding member and is past president of the Academy of Veterinary Technicians in Clinical Practice (AVTCP). She is also a Certified Veterinary Practice Manager (CVPM) and in 2016, she was awarded the Veterinary Technician of the Year award from the New York State Association of Veterinary Technician.
